LOCATIONS IN THE CITY

DIS- SON- NANCE

Each year a new theme is presented to inspire, spark creativity and new ideas for an exciting program. The theme for Southern Sweden Design Days 2023 is dissonance. Dissonance is a state of imbalance – a feeling that something is not right. Dissonance can be unsettling, but often gives rise to innovative developments in its constant pursuit of harmony. In music, dissonance is tone combinations that go outside musical habitual patterns. Intervals that strive to be resolved into a consonance, a tension-free harmony.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

Local fibers flax, hemp and wool are looking for new contexts.

The materials we use here, are often not produced here, but far away. This is a consequence of dysfunctional production systems, and a lack of knowledge about the opportunities here in Sweden. The exhibition is created by the Fiber Land project.

COLORED METERS

A manifestation of dyeing techniques and genuine craftsmanship.

The installation is based on different dyeing techniques with the intention of broadening the understanding of the complexity of the craft. It will highlight the unique possibilities of the craft while questioning the contemporary attitude to textiles as a cheap product with a short lifespan.

CRAFTED POTENTIALS

Practical experiments, material samples, prototypes and unique objects made from discarded materials and by-products.

An exhibition arranged by Olsson & Gerthel that invites the furniture producer Fogia to collaborate with the designer Kajsa Willner who has worked to explore the undeveloped potential of residual materials and by-products from the company's manufacturing process. The exhibition celebrates all the possibilities that exist with making use of unused material.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

FISKER OCEAN ALL ELECTRIC SUV

A clean future for everyone starts here.

California-based Fisker Inc. wants to revolutionize the automotive industry by designing and developing individual mobility in line with nature. Driven by a vision of a clean future for all, the company is on a mission to create the world's most sustainable and emotional electric vehicles. Now the company's first product, the all-electric SUV Fisker Ocean, is being launched.
